LFRF Supporting Guidance	“Recipients may respond to the public health emergency or its negative economic impacts by, among other activities, providing assistance to nonprofits.” (Final Rule, p. 153). “A recipient may identify a negative economic impact experienced by a nonprofit, or class of nonprofits, and design and implement a response to that negative economic impact.” (Final Rule, p. 156). “Recipients may identify classes of...nonprofits...that have experienced a disproportionate impact based on academic research or government research publications, through analysis of their own data, or through analysis of other existing data sources. To augment their analysis, or when quantitative data is not readily available, recipients may also consider qualitative research and sources like resident interviews or feedback from relevant state and local agencies, such as public health departments or social services departments. In both cases, recipients should consider the quality of the research, data, and applicability of analysis to their determination.” (Final Rule, p. 45). “If the recipient is providing funds to the individual or entity for the purpose of directly benefiting the individual or entity as a result of experiencing a public health impact or negative economic impact of the pandemic, that individual or entity is acting as a beneficiary. Acting as a beneficiary, the individual or entity is not subject to subrecipient monitoring and reporting requirements.” (Final Rule, p. 211).
